

Things I never taught my children

When my children were small I tried to teach them many good things in life.

I wanted to equip them for a bright future ahead.

So I taught them how to be kind to people, how to respect others and much more but there was something which I could not get across to them, no matter how hard I tried.

It took all my skills, all my effort to get this message across.

I tried to teach them how to tell lies!!!

I wanted to make sure that they would become highly skilled in the art of lying, that they would be the best liars of all times to come. I wanted to ensure that lying would become their 2nd. nature and that they would always know when and how to tell a good lie.

After all this would ensure a great future for them in the world of politics once they had grown up!

But years later I have to look back and admit that I have failed.

I had spent years trying to teach them how to be a good liar but I failed in the end.

There were many times when I felt like giving up but I persisted in the hope that I would eventually succeed. But in the end it all came to nothing.

Does this sound like a believable story or like something which I simply made up?

Humanists, Atheists, Muslims and other religious people live under the most terrible illusion of all times.

They all believe that when a child is born that this child is as pure and as innocent as a white dove any other 'pure' innocent animal.

This only shows the level of the deception, of how much their minds have been deceived.

How is it possible for a child to know something in life which it has never been taught?

How can a child know and act in a certain way when it has never received any instructions for such a behavior at all?

Every child knows how to lie.

Children know how to tell a lie from such an early age that there can only be one conclusion to this behavior. All 'new-born's' are born with the natural ability to lie. They do not need any instructions at all.

Just as every newborn child knows how to breathe without having receiving instructions, just as every infant knows how to feed on his or her mother's breast so every child has the natural ability to lie without ever having received any training and any instructions.

Dishonesty is inbred in every child from the moment of birth! It's only confused parents who cannot face this sober fact of life.

Dishonesty is part of our human DNA. We cannot map it like we can other physical handicaps but it is present in every child from the moment it is born.

The only instructions a child needs is how to be honest but it never needs to be taught how to be dishonest and how to lie.

We are born with this 'natural' ability, something which requires no skills and no instructions at all.

Dishonesty is part of our human nature, of our 'make-up'.

The Bible calls this 'original sin'.

Humanism, Atheism, Islam and most other religions deny this fact despite the overwhelming evidence to the contrary.

Neither Humanism nor Islam or any other human Philosophy and religion which deny this fact can provide a plausible explanation as to why this occurs.

Anyone who has ever attempted to reason against 'original sin' has been caught by the inconsistencies of his false belief.

The Bible is the only book which can provide consistent explanations and answer this question about the true meaning of 'original sin'.

But that explanation is usually rejected because its acceptance would also leads to the admission of once personal sin.

And that is something which very few of us are prepared to face and are ready to admit.

Ignorance and denial are the greatest enemy of progress.

This is why Humanism has created such a big prison where entire societies are locked up in it, from where they can no longer escape and can further progress.

Communism was based on Humanism and so is present day Socialism.

Communism enslaved large parts of humanity for many decades in the past. It ruled and governed with 1 basic lie, the lie that God is dead (or that He does not exist) and that man is the master of his own destiny.

Communist societies provided a clear evidence of what man can achieve when God is removed from a nation. The results were economic stagnation, no industrial progress, an inability to feed once own nation ect. Those were all part of the reason why communism failed in the end. Socialism today is going down the very same path (ideologically).

Just look what Socialism has done to a country like Sweden!

Sweden was once the showpiece of the world. It had the highest standard of living and the most generous social services of any country in the whole world.

Today Sweden is the sick man of Europe. It is also the rape capital of Europe. It is a nation which can no longer contain and control its growing rate of violent crime and its sharp increase in the number of rapes (now Sweden records the 2nd. highest rate of rapes in the world).

Economically, socially and in every other way Sweden is a nation in decline. From the educational standards in its schools to industry, to science and to finance, Sweden is starting to decline and go backwards in almost every area.

Sweden's government has made a very clear and a very definite decision, it has removed God from its nation. Socialist M.P.'s have spoken in public that Christianity is not compatible with Socialism and that the Christian faith today is the greatest danger and the biggest obstacle to any further progress in Sweden's socialist society.

The outcome has been clear and visible to the rest of the world. A nation has chosen and God has accepted their wish.

The future will provide even more clear evidence of that fatal decision of Sweden's blind leaders.

Any philosophy, any religion, any ideology which is built on the lie that man is basically 'good by his nature' will sooner or later have to face the ugly side of that deception.

This means that such a nation will often be forced to experience the true character of what is really hidden in a human heart.

This is precisely what is happening in parts of the Middle East today. But what we see taking shape in the Middle East today is only the beginning of far worse to come.

The entire Middle East and parts of Asia are a potential war zone which will one day explode.

A nuclear Pakistan and a nuclear India, a future nuclear Iran and a potentially nuclear Saudi Arabia are just some of the nations which will inflict irreparable damage on each other on such an incredible scale that it will affect the rest of the world.

They will one day be forced to come face to face with the ugly truth of what is really hidden in their own 'good' hearts. Then they will see what men can do to each other, men who are basically 'good by their nature'.

Sooner or later we will all be forced to face that ugly truth about ourselves.

Some will spend a whole lifetime in hiding. Others will use their religion as an escape, as a cover –up which they need in order to cover the ugly truth about themselves.

'Sin' is present in each and in every one of us.

We can deny it, we can ridicule it, we can laugh about it and we can simply overlook it but 'sin' has made its home deep in all our hearts. It shapes our thoughts and our behavior and it will influence all our actions.

Religion has partly recognized that there is a problem and it has created a pathway of how to come to terms with this. It created rules and regulations but it cannot resolve what is hidden deep within our hearts.

Rules and regulations and the best human effort cannot remove sin which has invaded our heart.

This is something which is beyond us.

We can recognize that there is a problem but we cannot resolve this problem on our own.
We need more than that.
Sin needs a savior!
Sin needs someone who is greater than us!

2000 years ago God send His only son into this world which was poisoned and polluted by human sin (and still is). Jesus came into this world as the light from God. This light not only has the power to expose what is hidden within us but this light is also powerful enough to show us the way out of our darkness. After 3 years of ministry which changed the world forever Jesus surrendered his life voluntarily and died for our sins on a wooden cross. Because of 'sin' we are estranged from God right from our birth on. We are born as 'sinful rebels' (which is so highly visible in every single child) and we continue to live that way until we surrender our life to Jesus our savior. Once we accept the reality that Jesus surrendered his life in exchange for our sin our sinful heart will be washed clean by the blood which he had spilled on that cross.

God is a holy God.
Holiness means that God cannot allow anything which is sinful in His presence for darkness cannot mix with light.
Human sin would pollute the holy presence of God and God's justice demands that 'sin' has to be punished, that no sin can dwell in His presence in all of eternity.
This means that every single human throughout all of human history will be condemned to eternal darkness for ever for every one of us has been born with this sinful heart and every one of us has lived with many sinful desires, has been a 'sinner'.
Even 1 single sin (one single lie or something that we might consider rather innocent) is enough to separate us from the holy presence of God forever.

But Jesus took all of those sins upon his big shoulders and carried them unto the cross.

On that cross he died the death which we have deserved!
On that cross God's anger on sin and Gods sense of justice was fully appeased.

Once we accept Jesus death as our justification, as our path of salvation we are able to be delivered from sins and stand before God as clean and as pure as a white dove.

This is our only hope for eternal redemption!
Without that hope we would all perish and die with the full weight of our sins.

Isaiah 53:4 Surely our griefs He Himself bore, And our sorrows He carried; Yet we ourselves esteemed Him stricken, Smitten of God, and afflicted.

1 Peter 2:24 and He Himself bore our sins in His body on the cross, so that we might die to sin and live to righteousness; for by His wounds you were healed.
